

Product Policy Manager

We are recruiting a regulatory and public affairs expert specialized in Product Policy with experience in the Circular Economy.

FEVE is the European Federation of glass packaging makers and is the official voice of the glass container industry at European level.

Product Policy Manager will cover market access and product stewardship legislation as well as stimulating industry to meet ambitious new recycling targets and collection systems in the EU so as to bring more and more products to market that are safe, resource efficient, sustainable and demanded by customers and consumers.

Our Product Policy manager:

- Develop and coordinate FEVE advocacy on product policy in the circular economy at EU level, working across the isles between production and marketing
- Coordinate and support the national associations policy leaders to develop joint activities on the industry's circular economy priorities and targets
- PA and lobby activities in support of other FEVE dossiers and positioning of the industry (e.g. Sustainable Development Goals, Industry Reputation-Building, EU Non-toxic environment strategy and Food Contact Materials, Product Environmental Footprint)
- Grow the FEVE network of stakeholders including NGOs as well as outreach towards the European Commission, European Parliament, Council and stakeholders active in circular economy
- Monitor and assess product policy developments, Opportunities and issues arising
- Draft reports, position papers, presentations and speeches

Do you?

- Have preferably between 5 – 10 years' professional experience working in a relevant European regulatory or public affairs environment.
- Possess a talent for bringing both strategic insight and practical outlook to issues
- Enjoy communicating, representing and explaining industry positions.
- Speak fluent English and any other EU languages, preferably German
- Have a university degree (preferably a degree in law, economics or political science).

We can offer you a competitive salary package and a great environment for development.

Interested candidates are invited to send their cv and covering letter by December 19th 2018 to:

Adeline Farrelly
Secretary General
FEVE - the European Container Glass Federation
Avenue Louise 89, Bte 4

B-1050 Bruxelles
Tel +32 2 536 00 80
Fax: +32 2 539 37 52
e-mail: a.farrelly@feve.org